Imagine standing on stage singing your favourite song to the applause of the crowd. Will you be ABBA, Queen or even Hot Chocolate.... it's your choice. And you don't even need to be able to sing as effort counts for everything.

Divided into groups and choosing from of a selection of backing tracks, each team will perform their own version of a well-known classic. Lyric sheets and costume accessories are also provided to help everyone perfect their performance. There are plenty of opportunities for individuals to shine in additional roles including producer, choreographer and vocal coach, without having to take centre stage.

After an afternoon meticulously polishing their performances, your guests retire to change for dinner before the evening entertainment begins. Your budding stars will enter the dining room by taking their place on the Red Carpet with in an explosion of paparazzi flashlights. After dinner, your compere will introduce each act in turn as they pass through the Stars in your Eyes triangle to take centre stage and perform live to their audience. After the last act has performed the audience will vote and our clapometer will confirm the winners. Now stars in their own right, the winning act will perform one last time, before graciously receiving their Champagne prize!
